

Personality Stability

Quartz und Research Digest (The British Psychological Society): „For example, there is growing neuroscience research that supports the ancient Buddhist belief that our notion of a stable “self” is nothing more than an illusion.“

You're a completely different person at 14 and 77, the longest-running personality study ever has found.